Article 9

Force Majeure

The effects of a calamity and/or national crisis can have severe consequences on our country. Calamity and/or national crisis can present itself in various forms; coronavirus, pandemic, hurricane, floods, twisters, tsunami, structure collapse, water or electricity crisis, outage, large fire, terrorist attack, toxic substance, zika, firework and more. In the event of a calamity and/or national crisis the Curaçao Government has a Department of Crisis Control and Calamity Management who will advise the government on the steps to be taken. One of these steps may entail the cancellation or postponement of the carnival celebration. In this event the following points will be in effect:

1. In the event that carnival is postponed due to a calamity, national crisis or an unforeseen situation, outside of HOTD's reach (for example a COVID-19 spread), HOTD will not reimburse the amounts paid to its members. The reason is that expenses have already been made in preparation for the carnival parades. Any amount paid to HOTD will be held and attributed to the member once carnival continues.
2. When a member registers to participate in carnival 2024 with HOTD, the member agrees to participate according to the rules and regulations as set forth by the Curaçao Government in relation to the 2024 carnival celebration. The HOTD board will comply with any and all instructions to guarantee that the events and activities relating to carnival can be conducted in a COVID-safe manner.
